PROLOGUE

Civil unrest in urban areas during the summer of 2020 has sparked renewed interest in the Pentagon's transfer of surplus military equipment to local law enforcement agencies.

Liberals tend to raise civil liberties concerns while conservatives question why the federal government is involving itself in area of responsibility traditionally reserved for states and local communities.

In the database provided by the U.S. government, 581,000 items of military gear worth $1.8 billion were distributed to domestic law enforcement since 1993. All items were in current inventory at local law enforcement agencies as of March 2020.

We found that military equipment flowed into 8,200 communities across America. Quite likely, your own hometown police received some gear.

Even small town police departments now possess mine resistant vehicles, armored trucks, helicopters, M16's and M14's, infrared goggles, and grenade launchers.

Now, you can search our interactive map by ZIP Code and see which law enforcement agencies received what types of equipment – both in quantity and acquisition value.

Critics and advocates of the program must grapple with the key question: “What legitimate law enforcement purpose is served by the procurement of military hardware, and, therefore, the militarization of our domestic police departments?”

WHO WE ARE

American Transparency (OpenTheBooks.com) is a public charity. We do not accept government money. Our oversight reports present hard data so citizens, media, think tanks, politicians, and watchdogs can “follow the money.” Hard facts are non-partisan and enhance the public discourse.

SCOPE & METHODOLOGY

Our OpenTheBooks Oversight Report: Program 1033 – $1.8 Billion In Military Gear Transferred To Local Police Agencies is a survey of current inventories. Our auditors reviewed the data across all 50 states including deeper dives into the ten most populous and the three least populous states.

We obtained the data for our report from the Pentagon through open records requests and the “Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act of 2006.” This report quantified all disclosed transfer of equipment, gear, and weaponry since 1993 that is in the current inventory of domestic law enforcement as of March 31, 2020.

BACKGROUND

“In the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) for fiscal years 1990 and 1991, Congress authorized the transfer of excess Department of Defense (DoD) property to federal, state and local law enforcement agencies. Congress later passed the NDAA for fiscal year 1997, which allows law enforcement agencies to acquire property for bona fide law enforcement purposes – particularly those associated with counter-drug and counter-terrorism activities.”

Source: Defense Logistics Agency website.

Approximately 8,200 federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies from forty-nine states and four U.S. territories participated in the program.

The DoD transfers two kinds of property: controlled and non-controlled.

Controlled property includes small arms/personal weapons, demilitarized vehicles, aircraft, etc. These items are loaned to law enforcement while the DoD retains the title.

Non-controlled property consists of common items such as office equipment, computers, first aid kits/supplies, hand tools, sleeping bags, clothing, etc. The ownership of non-controlled property transfers after one year.

EVERY DIME. ONLINE. IN REAL TIME.

We are the world's largest private database of public-sector expenditures. Captured 5 billion individual public expenditures including all disclosed federal spending since 2001; 49 of 50 state checkbooks; and 23 million public employee salary and pension records from 50,000 public bodies across America. Our Honorary Chairman is U.S. Senator Dr. Tom Coburn (ret.).

Our aggressive transparency and forensic auditing has led to the assembly of grand juries, indictments, and successful prosecutions; congressional briefings, hearings, audits, subpoenas, and legislation; administrative and White House policy changes; and much more.

and many others.

In 2020...

The President's Budget To Congress FY2021 included a first-ever chapter, "Stopping Wasteful and Unnecessary Spending," which was inspired by our oversight report, Where's The Pork? A Study of $600 Billion In Federal Grants. Media coverage included USA Today, The Wall Street Journal, and FOX News. Included in the President's Budget was our report, Use-It-Or-Lose-It – How The Federal Government Spent $97 Billion In September 2018. The President committed to stopping this wasteful phenomenon. Also, the budget cited our report on the National Endowment of the Arts as the principle reason to eliminate the agency.

In 2019...

Our Top 82 U.S. Non-Profit Hospitals: Quantifying Government Payments & Financial Assets report launched on FOX News' Tucker Carlson Tonight and USA TODAY. This report backstopped President Trump's two executive orders on healthcare price transparency by showing that wealthy charitable non-profit healthcare providers and their CEO's were making big profits. Colorado Governor Jared Polis (D) also cited this data in his state of the state address while arguing for price reforms.

In 2018...

Open The Books' Mapping The Swamp, A Study Of The Administrative State Media report launched on FOX News' Laura Ingraham Show and directly led to Representative Judy Hice's (R-GA) legislation on pension and bonus transparency (H.R. 2612). Furthermore, we briefed the Executive Office of the President, Office of Management & Budget regarding our policy ideas to drain the swamp.

In 2017...

The Tax Cuts And Jobs Act 2017, passed into law and included a claw-back tax on Ivy League-style, excessive university endowments. The Boston Globe cited our Ivy League, Inc. oversight report as a catalyst for the legislative provision.

In 2016...

We exposed the $20 million luxury-art procurement program at the Department of Veterans Affairs, which forced a public apology from the V.A. Secretary and the adoption of new rules to stop the abuse.
