Hi Jessie - Thanks so much for reaching out to us. We did see this article and thought it might be interesting for you to know a few unique things about Westlake.

Our Town Council implemented a policy to pay competitive market-based salaries to all of our employees, whether in municipal services or academic, in order to recruit and retain high-quality employees that are committed to servant leadership. Our Town Manager mentioned by name in the article, Thomas E. Brymer, serves in a dual role as Superintendent of Westlake Academy as well. You may not be aware that the Town of Westlake owns and operates a K-12 open-enrollment charter school that serves its 875 students as an International Baccalaureate World school.

While Westlake's resident population is estimated just under 1500, our daytime population is over 12,000. Westlake is home to several Fortune 500 financial industry leaders that have chosen our pastoral community, right in the heart of the Dallas-Ft. Worth Metroplex, for their regional headquarters and/or international leadership center (i.e. Fidelity Investments, Charles Schwab, & Deloitte University), as well as many other corporate businesses.

Thanks for letting me share this information with you, Jessie. Wishing you a great weekend,
GRA
